DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This house is located on the south side of U.S. route 40-A about two miles north-east of Boonsboro in Washington County, Maryland. It is situated on an area of level ground surrounded by large deciduous trees and faces east.

The structure is a two story, four bay dwelling, apparently of frame construction, sheathed with asbestos shingle siding. It rests on low fieldstone foundations.

The windows have narrow frames which hold six over six pane double hung sashes. Pairs of louvered shutters flank the openings. Small four pane windows light the attic.

Entrances are located in the two center bays of the front elevation. Both are framed similarly to the windows and have narrow transoms. A two bay hip roofed entrance porch supported by square posts shelters the doors.

The roof of the house is covered with sheet metal and extends beyond the end walls. Several courses of molding finish the eaves boxing. Brick chimneys with a corbel at their tops are located inside each gable end.

Small outbuildings are situated behind the house while a large frame bank barn is located northeast of the dwelling.

The buildings are in good condition and stand on a tract containing 146 acres.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This farm complex, consisting of a two story, four bay house, a frame bank barn and related outbuildings is primarily significant for its architecture. The house, a type frequently seen in northern Maryland and southern Pennsylvania, has two front doors side by side in the front elevation. Many researchers associate this door arrangement with German building traditions. It occurs with great frequency in areas where people of German or Pennsylvania German extraction settled.

This house which would appear to date from the third quarter of the 19th century may be of frame construction. The use of framing as a construction method was rare in Washington County before the second half of the 19th century.
